Representatives Several Counties Meet at the College

Today the West Texas State Teachers College is host for the fourth annual Short Course for the women of Districts number one and two of Texas Home Demonstration work. This course which brings about 300 women to Canyon for the day, is a co-operative project between the local college and the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College. The program was arranged by Miss Marion Normington, head of the local home economics department and Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs and Miss Myrtle Murray, District Home Demonstration Agents for this section of Texas.

Three hundred women, members of home demonstration clubs in thirty counties have made plans to spend this day at the college.

For the first time Randall county is largely represented in this meeting, nearly 100 women under the leadership of Miss Sadie Kate Bass, having arranged to take part in the days activities.

As much variety as possible has been injected into the programs which can consume only a few hours. Members of the faculty are assisting the home economics department in every way, and Miss Elizabeth Cox and Miss Cleo D. McElroy Steers Top the Kansas City Market Mon.

KANSAS CITY, May 9.—A three-car consignment of stock steer and heifer yearlings from the Randall County ranch of Clyde McElroy recently topped the market here by a comfortable margin.

His steers weighing 501 pounds sold at $6.25, while the heifers brought $5, weighing 467 pounds. There were 53 steers and 82 heifers.

Mr. McElroy's exploits in the raising of top-notch stock calves and yearlings have stamped him as one of the leading cattlemen of Texas.

Mr. McElroy, unlike a good many stock cattle operators, puts his calves on full fledged diet in the winter.

Advertising Does Pay

What advertising can do to build and maintain public confidence in a firm and its product is shown in these figures taken from The Financial World and The Literary Digest:

Net Earning in Relatives of 1928

Year	All Industry	Advertised Trade-Marked Product
1928	100	100
1929	135	112
1930	70	117
1931	39	111
1932	2	90

Think this over and decide whether it pays to advertise and maintain buyers' preference and confidence.

112 Kinds of Birds Identified Here Says Miss Hibbetts

"One hundred and twelve different kinds of birds have been definitely identified in and around Canyon," stated Miss Anna I. Hibbetts Tuesday speaking at the Canyon Rotary luncheon. Miss Hibbetts has been making a study of birds for several years.

"If all birds were destroyed, starvation would face the world in seven years," stated Miss Hibbetts. It would take only that time for the insects to destroy all trees, grass, grain and other vegetation.

Miss Hibbetts spoke interestingly of the three classes of birds to be found on the Plains—resident birds, winter birds and summer birds.

Cats are the greatest menace to bird life, killing fully 100,000,000 birds annually, according to the authorities on bird life.

"There are many more kinds of birds on the Plains than the citizens usually think," stated Miss Hibbetts. English sparrows are not classed as birds by the authorities, but are designated as pests which are keeping away and destroying many kinds of useful birds.

The program was in charge of the Student Loan Committee, Bill Warren and Harris Cook being in charge of the program.

Dr. B. E. Masters and Price Hooks of Amarillo were visitors.

Twenty members of the Rotary Club signified their intention of visiting the Sunny Hill school Friday night, and will be accompanied by several other Canyon citizens.

Rapid Sale Being Made of Certified Seed in the County

The State certified planting seed bought with the seed fund of the Chamber of Commerce and sold through the county agent's office is being sold very rapidly this week.

The county agent requests all who desire to buy this seed to do so right away so that he will be able to secure enough to supply the demand before the supply is exhausted.

The milo is already sold out and cannot be replaced. A small amount of kafir remains unsold. Hegari and sorghum may be replaced if we do not wait too long. It is expected that all the seed will be cleaned out and the account closed June 1st.

BUDGET LOCAL SCHOOLS MADE BY TRUSTEES

Reduction Made in Operating Expenses For New Year

VALUES ARE CUT

Citizens Meet Tuesday With Board to Discuss Plans

At a meeting of the School Board Tuesday night the budget for 1933-34 was reduced 20% over that of 1932-33. This reduction will cut the budget to approximately $28,000 for the ensuing year. In 1931-32 it was $44,000; in 1932-33 it was $36,000. The budget of $28,000 shows that a reduction of $16,000 or 36% has been made in the last two years.

A reduction of 20% in property valuation for the coming year was also voted by the school board. It was felt that taking everything into consideration that this reduction should be made in the interest of economy and saving to the tax payer. Several prominent citizens and tax payers were present and expressed their belief that delinquent taxes should be paid wherever possible in order to lighten the load for the tax payer.

The School Board cordially solicits all those who have not yet paid their taxes to do so at once if it is at all possible. If this is done the school year can be brought to an end without debts. Payments will be accepted in installments or the whole.

D. L. Adams of Wayside Invites People Over Drive

D. L. Adams, prominent citizen of the Wayside community, was in the city Monday in the interest of the Goodnight Trail. Mr. Adams was a moving spirit in the completion of the highway across the Palo Duro at Wayside which has been named the Hamblen Drive, in honor of Will Hamblen who has devoted more than 25 years in an effort to complete this drive.

Mr. Adams states that he has driven more than 1500 miles and interviewed more than 200 people in the campaign to secure the right-of-way, to raise funds and to complete the construction of the Hamblen Drive.

Mr. Adams is greatly interested in the construction of the Goodnight Trail, which he terms one of the greatest projects that the citizens of this section have undertaken.

With the proper marking of the Palo Duro Park drive and the Hamblen Drive on the Goodnight ranch, Mr. Adams expects an increasing number of visitors will come to Wayside to view the Palo Duro canyon.

West Highway Work Completed — South Contract Uncertain

Contract work on Highway 33 west from Canyon to the county line has been completed, and accepted by the State Highway Department. The construction crew has moved to Pampa where topping work is being done.

Division Engineer J. S. Bailey stated Saturday that plans are made for the topping of No. 9 from Canyon to Happy. He hopes that it will be possible to let the contract for this work next month. However, the condition of the state's finances are such that Mr. Bailey would not hazzard a guess as to the possibilities of a contract next month.

Resident Engineer E. H. Gohmert and wife are leaving this week for Yorktown where they will visit at the home of his parents. Mr. Gohmert states that he hopes to be recalled to Canyon during the summer to complete the work in No. 9 in Randall county, and No. 33 in Deaf Smith county. The state is starting no new projects, but are attempting to complete the projects which are under way.

Miss Gladys Beavers visited relatives in Hereford Sunday.

GOODNIGHT TRAIL WORK IS PROGRESSING

HAYS REFUSES TO GIVE OVER OFFICE RECORD

Ousted as Justice of the Peace in Precinct Number Four

WAS FINED $100.00

New Officer Appointed to Continue Work in North Part of County

Refusal of Frank Hays to vacate as Justice of the Peace in precinct No. 4, after filing his resignation and withdrawal of the same has created a legal tangle as to the exact status of Hays as a county official.

Hays was charged several weeks ago by Sheriff Bob Barnett with refusing to issue a search warrant in South Amarillo. Hays was tried before a jury in county court and assessed a fine of $100 for refusing to do his official duty. This fine was reduced by Governor Miriam Ferguson to $1.00 and costs, which Hays pald off.

After being arrested Hays filed his resignation as Justice of the Peace, but the next day filed a request for its return. The Commissioners Court was advised there was one road open, this being to file ouster proceedings before District Judge Henry S. Bishop.

At the session Monday the Commissioners Court voted to accept the resignation of Hays, and ordered Sheriff Barnett to secure the books and records from Hays and turn them over to W. C. Stevenson who was appointed Justice of the Peace in place of Hays.

When shown the order for transfer, Hays refused to turn over to the sheriff his books and records, and indicated that he would continue to hold the office.

Reports filed by him Monday show that he has transacted no business since he was charged and tried for the neglect of official duty.

It is now up to Hays to fight for his right to hold the office if he seeks to continue.

Local Committee to be Ready on Wheat Loans Next Monday

The Randall county committee of the Crop Production Loan Office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be ready to receive applications for wheat crop loans beginning Monday, May 15th. Applications for these loans must be in the hands of the committee between the 15th and 31st of this month. The committee asks all those who expect to apply for loans to start as soon as possible because they will not be able to take care of any very great rush at the end of the time allowed for making these loans. The amounts that will be loaned and the rules and regulations will not be available until after a meeting of committees at Amarillo Saturday of this week. J. W. Spencer will be employed as clerk for the committee and will maintain office in the county agent's office beginning Monday, May 15th.

Grapes Must Be Sprayed at Once to Save the Crop

It is time (this week) to spray grape vines to keep the worms from eating the little grapes off the bunches. Arsenate of Lead should be used at the rate of 2 level tablespoonfuls per gallon of water, or 1½ pounds to 50 gallons of water. A little soap added to the water will help in making the spray stick to the foliage.

Grapes should be grown on every farm as this is our one dependable fruit in this section. There are many varieties that do well here. The county agent was able to secure vines for two demonstration vineyards that were planted in Randall county this springs. These were secured from the proving grounds of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Woodward, Okla., and consisted of 15 varieties. After these vineyards come into bearing we will have an answer to the question of what is the best variety for this section. One of the vineyards planted this spring is on the farm of Albert Byars north of Canyon, and the other is located on the Tierra Blanca farm east of town.

START EQUALIZATION

The Commissioners Court started work Tuesday as a board of equalization. Burney Slack, tax assessor, has completed his work on assessments.

The county tax rate for this year will be set after the assessments have been equalized.

PROGRESS IS MADE HIWAY IN PALO DURO

Goodnight Trail Meets With Most Hearty Approval

RIGHT-OF-WAY NEXT

Several Meetings Have Been Held During the Past Week

The Panhandle's dream for a quarter of a century . . . the opening of a great scenic playground in famous Palo Duro Canyon, is near realization, in the opinion of local committees and state officials.

Developments looking to the establishment of a state park in the canyon, with a 30-mile highway down the very heart of the stupendous gorge, have been rapid during the past 10 days, with the organization of Panhandle citizens from seven counties to secure right-of-way and to assist state officials in getting work started in the immediate future on actual improvements.

D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas Park Boards and John W. Pritchett of the state board of water engineers, spent five days in Amarillo, in viewing the canyon and in conference with delegations from the various committees interested in the project. At the organization meeting in Amarillo last week an executive committee of seven, with T. E. Johnson of Amarillo as chairman and Clyde Warwick of Canyon as secretary, was chosen; the location of the first highway into the canyon was selected; preliminary surveys were Both trucks were badly damaged by the accident.

City Tax Rate Will Likely Be Set at 80 Cents

A preliminary budget for Canyon has been made by Mayor C. R. Burrow which will be submitted to the next meeting of the City Commission. In this budget Mayor Burrow states that the city tax rate for the year will likely be set at 80 cents on the $100 valuation.

Harvey Cash is completing the work of assessing and will soon have his rendition blanks ready for the board of equalization.

W. T. Attendance Record Is Broken

The attendance at W. T. has reached a new high level, with 917 students enrolled in the college. These figures were released by Registrar D. A. Shirley. The present attendance is 5.7% more than the registration last year.

While enrollment has increased this year, students report that their expenditures are far below those of any previous year. A recent poll showed several students who have had less than $100 in money to carry them through the entire nine months. Working for room and board and bringing supplies from home have kept expenses low.

The summer session which begins June 5 is expected to cost the students less than at any time in the past fifteen years.

SUMMER TERM WILL BE HELD AS SCHEDULED

Twelve Weeks Term Will Convene Regardless Appropriations

MANY EXPECTED

Dr. Hill Returns to Austin on Appropriation Bill

Arrangements are under way at the West Texas State Teachers College here for the opening of the summer session on June 5. Inquiries are being received by President J. A. Hill from every section of the state.

The comfortable summer climate of the Plains region brings a great number of students from distant parts of the state each year.

The regular faculty will teach during the summer, with such additions as are needed to take care of the students who come. Many recreational features, most of them centering around the Palo Duro Canyon, will enable students to spend much time out of doors.

The appropriation bill for the summer session was set for yesterday but was not reached in the House. The Senate had previously passed this measure.

An increase of fees for the summer session has been passed by the House in order to assist with the summer expenses, but has not been considered by the House.

The Senate passed Senator Small's bill authorizing the colleges to retain all local fees for the use of the institutions. The attorney general ruled several months ago that all of these fees must be turned to the state treasury.

Dr. J. A. Hill left yesterday for Big Spring to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting, and will go to Austin to meet with the free conference on the education bill. Judge J. D. Hamlin, who has been assisting W. T. at Austin, reports that indications are good for a revision of the House Appropriations bill which calls for a very great reduction under the Senate bill.

The House passed the Graves consolidation bill Monday reducing the 138 departments down to 19. An attempt to reduce the teachers colleges in rank failed by a large majority. The main educational feature in this bill provides for the management of all colleges by the State Board of Education.

Museum Directors Praise Work Under Way of Local Crop

On May 14, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum will have been open one month. Already 7,250 people have registered in the visitor's book and Professor L. F. Sheffy is sure that by next Sunday the list will be 8,000 or more.

Members of the history faculty of the College give several hours of their free time each week in order to keep the museum open from two to six each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Last Sunday nearly 700 people from twelve states visited the building.

Among the visitors were E. B. Howard, specialist in the field of paleontology of the University Museum of Philadelphia Pennsylvania, H. H. Neivinger, curator of the Denver Museum, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nebeck of Chicago, Mrs. William H. Bush and Emeline Bush and Frank O'Brien of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Luther and John W. Newbaker of New York City.

Dr. E. B. Howard, who is well acquainted with museums over the nation, stated Sunday that he was much surprised at the accomplishments of this Historical Society in the twelve years of its existence. He said that there was a wonderful future in store for the organization here and that museums elsewhere would be interested in the collections brought together here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cummings and baby of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lindley and children of Tulia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Bishir Sunday.

"We cannot bally-hoo ourselves back to prosperity" were the frank words of President Franklin D. Roosevelt Sunday night. The President was addressing the nation on the work of his eight weeks in office, and disclosing his plans for the future. Too much bally-hoo in the past has been responsible for our present fix. Someone thought some fool movement would be a fine thing for the community, county, state or nation. He advocated this measure, and had plenty of followers, as all such movemeants meant the spending of the people's money, or was a scheme of making some one rich; and away we went, pell mell, neck break speed. As a result, we find ourselves smothered in debts that we cannot pay; with raw materials that we cannot sell; with manufactured articles that we cannot buy. Yes,, it was a fine big bally-hoo party which the world put on in the name of prosperity; but now we are paying the fiddler. The same methods which were used in getting us in the present mess will not pull us out.

Progress has been made in working out the plans for the Goodnight Trail and Palo Duro Park during the past week. The rapid development of the plans is indeed surprising. However, let it be known and remembered that D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Park Board, F. A. Emory of Chicago and J. B. Elliston of Canyon have been devoting most of their time the past two years together with the Board of Water Engineers and other state officials in developing plans which were necessary before actual construction could start. As a matter of fact, engineering work, and other technical work which usually takes several months to accomplish has been performed. If present plans work out, construction on the highway and park should get under way this fall in order to provide labor for unemployed during the coming winter.

In President Roosevelt's sensible talk Sunday night he took the people into his confidence. Action is what the people want, and are getting. The President admits that he will likely be right only 75% of the time, but that is better than a total miss. Roosevelt is determined to bring about better conditions, and will do so as soon as humanly possible.

The oil war on in Texas is hard on the state treasury, since the state collects a tax of only 2% of the value of the oil. A bill is pending to collect a graduated tax on oil according to production in each well. If this is enacted, it would be the most effective means of curbing overproduction in the oil fields, a thing that proration has failed to accomplish.

The Panhandle Press Association held a most enjoyable meeting in Amarillo Friday and Saturday. Panhandle publishers were present and discussed their problems in a most business like method. The Panhandle Press is the most aggressive and enterprising association of publishers in the United States ,and when the meetings are held, genuine interest is shown by the large number who attended. As a group, Panhandle newspapers are far superior to any other section of the nation. The readers of country weeklies and dailies in this section should appreciate this fact.

At last a congressional redistricting bill has passed the legislature. Failure to agree on a bill in past sessions was due to the demand of East Texas for a new district, which its population did not justify. The death of Congressman Briggs of Galveston removed a stumbling block which made the present bill possible. The three congressmen-at-large elected last year, all from East Texas, will retire or run against present district representatives, excepting in the case of George B. Terrill who is in a new district carved out without a congressman.

We are told that Texas will vote for legalization of beer, and then will fail to support the repeal of the 18th amendment. It is predicted that Randall county will cast a majority vote for beer on August 26th. All of this is brought about by the fact that congress says that 3.2 beer is not intoxicating, although it seems to be doing a pretty good job for those who wish to get drunk, and that the people are going to accept the verdict of congress as to the alcoholic content of beer. We shall see some very interesting developments during the campaign this summer.

Public work should be encouraged in dull times, but with the exception of the United States government, all kinds of public improvement is frowned upon by the tax payers at just the time when the public could receive the largest returns for the money spent. Following the natural way of doing things, we spend public money when we receive the least for the dollar.

Amarillo is said to be the most unique town in Texas, being without a Chamber of Commerce. It is hard to imagine a town of 45,000 population with no Chamber of Commerce, but this is only a temporary halt, with an effort to place the organization on a firmer foundation.

When the wind gets ready, it can stop our share of this blow.

The Influence of Inflation

Inflation seems to be the order of the day. At least this fish, shown above, which Eunice Berry caught alive at Manhattan Beach, Calif., seems to be pretty much inflated. And all the talk about inflation and fluctuating market prices must have influenced the hen which laid the eggs shown below into going off the old standard—of egg sizes. Immediately after laying the gourd-shaped egg at left, she produced the big one shown at right.

Enjoy Travelax-ation this Summer on the 3000 Miles of CONCRETE HIGHWAYS in Texas

TRAVELAX-ATION is that freedom from driving strain, that feeling of comfort, security, safety, and relaxation which comes to motorists when they drive on Concrete Highways.

You will make frequent trips in your car this Summer—some long ones and some short ones.

Regardless of why, when, or how far you drive you want comfort, safety, and speed at the lowest cost per mile. These motoring pleasures come with Travelax-ation, which you can enjoy only on Concrete Highways.

Concrete Highways provide smooth, firm and positive traction for tires in wet and dry weather alike. The road surface is flat like a floor—no center peak. This tends to do away with "center-of-the-road" driving. There are no bumps, no chug holes, no ruts to cause the sudden swerving of a car which so frequently results in unfortunate or fatal accidents.

There are more than 3,000 miles of these safe, economical Concrete Highways in Texas. Wherever you are going find out if there is a Concrete (Travelax Route) Highway that will take you. You will enjoy your drive ever so much more...and you will save about a cent per mile for gasoline, tires and repairs over what it would cost you to drive on chuggy, bouncy, unsafe roads.

We have prepared a Special Edition of the Official Map of the Texas Highway System, showing all highways, particularly Concrete Highways. Let this Map guide you to economical and enjoyable motoring.

ANGIE DEBO IS GRANTED Ph. D.

Oklahoma University Has High Praise for Work of W. T. Prof

Miss Angie Debo, assistant professor of history, finished the final examinations for her Ph. D. degree last Tuesday at the University of Oklahoma at Norman. She will receive the degree at the commencement exercises to be held there in June.

Miss Debo has been a member of the W. T. faculty for a number of years and has completed her work at O. U. by attending summer sessions and by taking one year's leave of absence.

As her thesis, Miss Debo wrote on the history of the Choctaw nation of indians. She collected most of her material at the University and at the Oklahoma Indian Agency.

In a letter to Dr. J. A. Hill, Prof. E. E. Dale of O. U. speaks of Miss Debo's work in words of genuine and unrestrained praise. The letter in full reads:

My dear President Hill:

As chairman of the examining committee for Miss Angie Debo, who took her final examination for the Doctor's degree in history and government last Monday, I wish to tell you that Miss Debo passed a very brilliant examination and made a most favorable impression upon her committee.

She showed every evidence of careful and critical scholarship, of a mature, analytical mind, and thorough knowledge of her subject, while her poise and bearing during the ordeal of a two and one-half hour examination was everything which could be desired. I wish to congratulate you upon having on your faculty a woman of such excellent attainments and outstanding scholarship.

This Department is very proud of Miss Debo and I know that my colleagues here all agree with me that the college having her services is very fortunate.

With best wishes, I am,
Very sincerely yours,
E. E. DALE,
Professor of History.

Panhandle A. & M. Will Meet Buffs Here Saturday Nite

Saturday night, May 13, the Buffaloe's thinly clad will tangle in a Dual Meet with the Panhandle A. & M. Aggies from Goodwell, Okla.

Faucette Rudolph, who has been high point man in the last two meets, will be seen doing his stuff the last time for the Maroon and White. Rudolph runs the high and low hurdles and puts the shot. In the last two meets he has copped first place in all three events. He is due to graduate in the summer and will be hard to replace in 1934.

Clyde Keith, quarter miler will graduate this spring. Keith placed in the Great Plains meet two successive years ('30-'31), and has rolled up a numerous amount of points for the Buffs in his three years of competition.

"Red" Swofford, another senior, will also be bidding goodbye. He has run the mile and two mile for the Buffs since '30, and will be a great loss to W. T.

The meet, scheduled to start at 8 p. m., will be held under the flood lights at Buffalo Park. Admission will be by Blanket Tax or upon payment of 25 cents.

W. T. entrants in events are:

Mile Run, Swofford, Griever.

SOUTHWESTERN CAPTURES MEET

Rudolph Again High Man With 15; Three First Places

While a typical track meet gale moaned over Buffalo Stadium Saturday night, Southwestern Teachers of Weatherford, Okla., braved the dusty cinder path to capture the track and field meet by a lopsided score of 84 to 33. The Buffaloes captured only four first places.

Faucette Rudolph was the outstanding star of the night, taking three first places for 15 points and high point honors. He copped the high and low hurdles and the shot put. W. T.'s other first place was the mile relay with a team composed of Colvin, Keith, Duncan and Richards.

Colvin's time in the relay was thought to be a near record performance for the quarter mile. The lanky star was responsible for the win, so great was the lead established by him.

In other events Richards took second in the 440; Colvin, second in the half mile; Newton tied for first in the pole vault; and took second in the discus throw.

The prediction that "checks" would be in style this spring proved to be way off.

Now is the time to light up the candle of industry and economy.

Inflation Is Topic Everywhere as U. S. Ponders Over New Bill

SINCE the new measure giving President Roosevelt exceptional powers in managing our currency was introduced into Congress, the subject of inflation has made the weather take a back seat in everyday conversation. Economists disagree over the best way to put it into effect and its practicability

Inflation is meant to bring about an increase in prices without a corresponding increase in the amount of available commodities. This result may be achieved by inflating currency or by inflating credit.

To understand currency inflation, one must first appreciate that paper dollars, in themselves, are worthless. They have gained their value only from the fact that if they should be turned in to the treasury, the government would give for them a specified amount of gold.

Currency may be inflated in either of the following ways:

(1) By printing more paper money for circulation without adding gold to the treasury with which to redeem it. No government has ever held enough gold in its vaults to be able to redeem instantly every paper dollar issued. The U. S. government, for instance, has usually had in its vaults gold amounting to from 40 to 55 per cent of its money.

(2) By lowering the gold content of the dollar. In the past, the government has promised to give, for each paper dollar, 23.22 grains of gold in a gold dollar. By specifying 20 grains, or 10, it would have more gold available, and could then issue more paper dollars without need of additional gold.

(3) By adding to the gold base a silver base, either by fixing a ratio, say 16 to 1, of silver to gold (bimetallism) or by purchasing silver bullion and using it as the base for issuance of silver certificates.

IN normal times the important medium of exchange is credit money, in the form of checks and other bills of exchange, approximately 10 times as much of this type of money being in circulation as there is currency. Nearly $15,000,000,000 of this credit money has disappeared in the last four years; this, credit inflationists argue, must be re-established before business can be revived.

Through the National Credit Corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the lowering of discount rates, and increased "open market" operations of the Federal Reserve system, the government has sought to extend credit to banks, insurance companies and railroads which would percolate through to the worker. But the benefit of this credit was not appreciably felt, due mainly to the reluctance of banks to lend money except for short terms on unimpeachable collateral.

The government's public works, Muscle Shoals and reforestation programs will put into operation another type of credit inflation, one whereby credit is not only furnished but likewise put into circulation. The public works program, for example, will thrust government credit into the hands of building contractors who will pass it on to raw material producers, thence to laborers and so on down the line.

OVER-INFLATION is disastrous —the experiences of Germany and Russia after the war attest to that. Controlled inflation, though, many economists believe, may be beneficial in restoring prices and in reviving business and industry. Without doubt, inflation aids the debtor class. Thus, debts contracted in 1929 must be paid now with a dollar that is worth much more than the 1929 dollar. Inflation, by leveling the value of the dollar, would remedy this situation, and enable debtors more easily to get out from under their burdens. Since inflation brings up commodity prices, manufacturers would be willing to buy raw materials and start the wheels rolling, knowing that prices would not drop and bring them losses in the period of time between the purchase of the raw materials and the turning-out of the completed product, it is argued.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Ye Sporte Scribe, Meandering Mentally, Discusses Cronin's Rival, "Roller Hockey," Major League Pitching, etc.

BY PHILIP MARTIN

RAMBLING around:

Joe Cronin was acknowledged the major's best shortstop last season. But with all his managerial worries, and the playing young Dick Bartell of the Phillies is doing, Cronin may be usurped this year. Dick is hitting strong enough to be among the first five in the National League, and is a fielding phenom.

ROLLER-HOCKEY is getting a lot of backing in the east and mid-west. The game's comparatively new, and is as fast and exciting as ice-hockey. The players hustle about on roller skates, bash one another over the head with clubs, wear heavily padded clothes, and bat a puck into a net for scores. Looks like a comer in the next couple of years.

WE can't understand why Buzz Arlett never stuck when he was up in the big leagues a couple of years ago. The Baltimore Orioles, with whom Buzz exchanges his labors for dough now, won their first nine games in the International League this season. Sixteen of the 96 hits Baltimore got during these games were home runs—and Buzz got four of them.

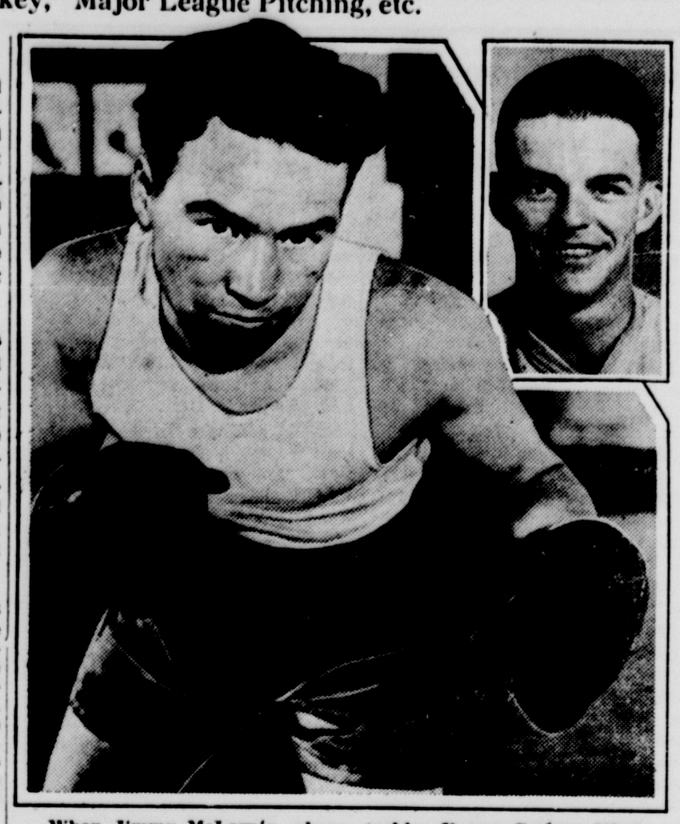
THE pitchers seem to have the high-sign on the batters during the early weeks of the major league season. Oral Hildebrand, Cleveland Indians' hurler; Tommy Bridges, Tigers' pitcher, and Roy Parmalee, Giants' heaver, all hurled one-hit games during the first two weeks of the race, and there were several two, three and four-hit performances.

Art Scharein, St. Louis Browns' third sacker, spoiled a perfect performance for Hildebrand; Sam West of the Browns, spoiled Bridges' record, and Mickey Finn of the Phillies, ruined Parmalee's chances.

Bridges' one-hit feat was bitter medicine to him. He nearly hurled a perfect game last year, only to have Dave Harris of the Washington Senators, step up in the ninth, with two out and pinch-hit a single.



When Jimmy McLarnin, above, tackles Young Corbett III for the welter crown in June, west coast promoters predict a topnotch fight and plenty of big-money bets. Tommy Bridges, inset, Detroit Tigers' hurler, has for the second time in two years narrowly missed delivering no-hit performances.

BIG Ten oppohents of Northwestern are scheduled to receive a surprise in the form of a trick football formation next year. Dick Hanley has devised a "jigsaw" shift, which resembles a lot of tangled players until the signal for the hip into the line is given. After the gyrating, an opposing lineman is nothing if not confused.

THE boys look for a lot of fighting and a lot of kale to be flashed when Jimmy McLarnin meets Young Corbett III for the welterweight crown sometime in June. Corbett recently won the title from Jackie Fields and McLarnin has been fighting plenty in his way up through the flyweight ranks.

Pacific coast promoters figure the gate will go as high as $150,000, but they'll probably be disappointed, even though the two boys are capable of action worth that dough.

VISITED MUSEUM

Twelve pupils of the Trigg school, accompanied by Miss Pauline Till, their teacher spent Tuesday afternoon in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum. Those who enjoyed the trip were Norval Jones, Stanton Renegar, Evelyn Broadus, Anna Menke, Laura Penrod, Betty Fay Warlick, W. R. Edwards, Dalbert Jones, Dale Mason, Edward Fluegel, Norman Mason and Cecil Jones.

Professor L. F. Sheffy, Miss Hattie M. Anderson and Miss Angie Debo keep the Museum open from 2 to 6 each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday for the benefit of those who wish to visit it.

LIGHT RAIN FALLS

The first rain in a month fell Thursday afternoon amounting in Canyon to .45 of an inch.

Rains have fallen in most sections of the county during the past week, although the southeast section of the county received much more moisture than any other section of the county.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

There will be services at the Episcopal Church next Sunday night, May 14th, at eight o'clock, with Rev. Warwick Aiken, of Dallas, officiating. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, May 17th, Mrs. E. Cecil Seaman of Amarillo, will be hostess of a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrews Church of that city, at the Little House of Fellowship, at three o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Page will be joint hostess, and all members of the local Episcopal Church, and the wives of the ministers of the other Canyon churches, are especially invited to be present. A similar meeting held at the Little House last spring, was such an enjoyable occasion that it is likely to become an annual event. There will be a business session, followed by an interesting musical program and social features.

GAVE PROGRAM SATURDAY NIGHT AT CLARNEDON

A group of Canyon's talented entertainers journeyed to Clarendon last Saturday night to give a program under the auspices of the Clarendon Harmony Club as a part of the observance of Music Week.

Miss Frances Usery appeared as pianist and accompanied Miss Frances Snodgrass, soprano, and Oscar Croson, violinist.

C. W. Batchelder gave a group of readings and directed a one-act play, in which he also took part along with Leon Landon and Miss Farris Sears.

The program was highly appreciated by the Clarendon audience and a reception was held for the entertainers after the performance at the home of Mrs. J. L. McMurtry.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 7 CANYON, TEXAS MAY 11, 1933 NUMBER 31

Well dog-gonned the luck, I'm jist about as sore as a hen-pecked husband. When that bunch wuz a puttin out the class papers, didn't none of them class editors tell me not to write anything fer 'em. I jist went ahead and writ some and then they didn't use it. Sure makes me sore to see people like that; that thinks they can get jist what they want, when they want it. Alright though, I'll get even with 'em. I'm goin back to Arizony pretty soon and I ain't a comin back. They'll jist have to get some one else to write fer 'em. That'll be easy for 'em to do, and I know they'll get someone that can write better'n I can.

Boy, I'm sure glad that Febe and Austin got to go to that big state track meet down at the Capitol. I knew them boys was some of the best runners in this part of the state. I believe if Febe hadn't been disqualified he might have won a place in that track meet. I don't know how come Rozy to get beat in that speaking contest, but I do believe it wasn't fair because Rozy is one of the best speakers in this hole state of Texas.

Well, boys and girls, this school will soon be out. I wonder how many of you will be glad when that time comes? Of course some of them won't be glad when school is out because they like old C. H. S. so much. I'll bet the seniors will be glad when that time comes. Sure is a fine senior class, I'll say. Mighty fine lookin bunch uv young men and women.

Them seniors put on a pretty good play last Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong sure played a good part of the play. I'm still wonderin' though if Mrs. Armstrong still has her head up so high. It's just to bad for her if she gets in a rain or sumethin', because water won't run up hill and she would be sure to drown. They tell me that they are gonna give their play down at Happy next Saturday night. Well I hope they get a large crowd. All you people who didn't see it last week ought to go to Happy to see it, because it's worth your money.

Seniors Advertise Adam and Eve at Chapel Program

The chapel program Wednesday, which was in charge of the seniors, opened with Mary Beth Campbell and Eulalie Moore singing, "Yield Not To Temptation," accompanied on the piano by Frances Marshall. During this song Zudie Mae Bible drew a picture of Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden. The students thought this was rather an old subject for a program, but found out later that "Adam and Eve" was the latest thing in play production. Then Mary Beth gave a reading entitled "How It Started," followed by two scenes from the senior play which was presented Thursday, May 4.

Adam and Eve To Be Presented at Happy Saturday

Next Saturday night the Senior Class of Canyon High School will present a four_act comedy in the High School Auditorium of the Happy High School.

The comedy, "Adam and Eve" was presented last Thurday night in the Canyon High School Auditorium. It was a huge success. The house was full, but due to the prevailing weather conditions there were not as many people there as would have been otherwise.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Happy is sponsoring the play next Saturday night. Everyone is urged to attend this dramatic performance. Admission charges are 10c and 20c. Remember the time 8:15 p. m. at the Happy High School Auditorium.

Eleven Hi School Students Have May Birthdays

The last month of school and the fifth month of the year, contains many Canyon High School birthdays. But, strange to say, the juniors were left entirely out of the celebration, for there is not a junior who celebrated his birthday in May. There are eleven students in school whose birthdays arrive during this month, five of whom are seniors, two are sophomores and four are feshmen.

R. L. Burnam and Adlyne Groom celebrate the same day which is the 23rd. Victor Hill and Sarah Bonnie Bourn both celebrate the 21st, and F. A. Thomas will celebrate the 19th as his birthday.

There are no juniors whose birthdays fall in this month of spring. Perhaps they plan to commemorate the end of school so greatly that no time will remain for further celebrations.

The sophomores whose birthdays fall in this notorious month are: Cecil O'Donald, who celebrated the 3rd, and Jack Oldham the 10th.

Of the freshmen, Gerald Noble celebrated the 2nd, Oveta Jordan the 4th, Raymond Koonce, the 9th and Sarah Bonnie Bourn will celebrate the 21st.

Canyon Hi Teachers Are Nearly All Native Texans

We have at last found out why the cities of O'Brien, Rockwell, Rising Star, Hale Center, Chico, Lancaster, Texas are famous.

Miss Brasuel is one of the famous products of Rising Star, Texas. Mr. Fox was born near O'Brien. Miss Jordan was born in Rockwall. Mr. Terry hails from Hale Center. Coach Barksdale was born in Chico. Miss Barker is from Lancaster.

But a few of our teachers are from other states. Miss Murrell is a Tennessean, she was born in Morton. Miss Clark was born in Northville, South Dakota. Miss Dickinson is from Fristoe, Missouri.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the illness of Mr. Terry's mother at Hale Center, the presentation of "Adam and Eve" at Happy next Saturday night has been called off.

We, the members of the cast do regret very much that this performance has been called off, and we also regret very much that Mr. Terry's mother is ill. We hope that she is on the road to recovery by the time this announcement comes off the press.

Home Economics Girls Win Honors at Mineral Wells

The team of three Home Economics students, made up of Jennie Lee Noble, Jean Burgess, and Lee Christine Cousins, represented Canyon High School in the annual Homemaking Education Rally held at Mineral Wells, May 4 to 6.

The students, accompanied by the teacher of Home Economics in the high school, Miss Brasuel, left Wednesday morning for the Rally, returning home Saturday.

The girls stayed at the Baker Hotel while in Mineral Wells. Six hundred and seventy-five girls attended the rally from all over Texas. The city of Mineral Wels did everything in their power to make the visit enjoyable.

Each school was entitled to enter six contests. From the six entered by the Canyon delegates, three awards were won. In selecting family dietaries Jennie Lee Noble places second; in selecting children's play suits Jean Burgess placed first, and in the modeling of school girls' costumes Lee Christine Cousins won fourth.

Grade School Gave Program Friday Night

The program given Friday night by the sixth grade and assisted by the third, fourth, and fifth, proved very successful.

The play was the outgrowth of class work and consisted of folk songs and dances. All during the year such programs have been given by this group proved to be very successful.

Mrs. Barker was in charge of the program but was helped by various teachers.

High School Girls Serve at College Home Ec. Banquet

AS STUDENT SEES EVENTS IN MINERAL WELLS

Our stay in mineral Wells, May 4-6, was completely filled with entertainments planned for us. Although there were certain things connected with the contests which we had to do, our visit was packed with good times.

Our program began Thursday morning at 8:00 o'clock at which time we were to arrange our exhibits in the Baker Hotel Pavilion. At 10:00 o'clock a state meeting of Home Economics clubs was held on the hotel roof garden. Several very interesting talks and reports from various home economics clubs were given at this meeting.

At 3:30 on Thursday we were entertained by a sight-seeing tour of several scenic points around Mineral Wells. At 5:30 we were given a tea in the Governor's private suite of rooms on the tenth floor of the hotel. At 8:15 a good time play party was held on the roof.

Friday from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. was taken with judging entries. While we were not in the contests there were other entertainments at the hotel to fill our time.

Friday night at 7:00 o'clock a banquet was held in our honor on the Baker hotel roof garden. The music was furnished by the Baker Hotel orchestra, and several individual features were contained in this program. It was a very enjoyable affair.

Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock a general assembly was held on the Roof. A short, though very entertaining program had been provided for the occasion, after which a style review was given by all the Rally Contestants modeling costumes and the awards were announced.

Aside from this entertainment furnished by the Rally Committee, we found much pleasure in seeing the gardens, parks, and other beautiful places in and around the city. The Baker Hotel was very beautiful and the Hotel Garden a most delightful place to West Texans. The most enjoyable feature of the trip was the fact that we did not see a single sand storm during our stay.

Students Return From State Meet Held at Austin

Canyon High School representatives, Austi Cone, F. A. Thomas and Rosa Cash returned Sunday evening from the state meet at Austin. They were all defeated in the preliminaries of the meet, but had a very pleasant trip in that they saw the beautiful city of Austin, including the State Capitol and University. Coach L. T. Barksdale, director of athletics in the high school, accompanied them on their trip. The students from various towns over the Panhandle went in a special car provided for the winners of the district meet. The girls of the district were chaperoned by Miss Cornelius, head of the public speaking department of Amarillo High School.

Supervisor's Column

In recent years so much leisure time has come to the American people that it behooves the schools to prepare young America to use this leisure time in a profitable and constructive way. Music is one of the best ways of accomplishing this; it is a means of giving outlet to youthful energies, through singing, listening to good music, folk dancing and playing instruments.

The motto of the Public School Music Department is, "Music for every child and every child for music." Our aim is to teach every child to love and appreciate good music and to discover and encourage the talented ones.

There are several ways to do this, one is through singing good tuneful songs. Folk lore music fill both of these requirements and it is the basis of all music, thus on acquaintance with folk tunes means a good foundation for music appreciation. Another way to help accomplish our aim is hearing good songs and good musical selections on victrola and radio which furnishes a good incentive for the child's natural imitative tendencies.

Rhythm is the basic element and the one of greatest appeal in music. Therefore it is essential to develop the rhythmic sense in the child, through folk dancing, rhythm band, rhythmetic songs, etc. This is another avenue of approach to our aim.

The interesting art of music reading is introduced to third grade children and further developed in each succeeding grade until seventh grade children are able to read fairly well by sight, two part songs. Music symbols are taught through a game and other devices.

Learning to play an instrument is a profitable and pleasureable avenue for youthful energies. Playing together fosters a feeling of unity and good will. It is also excellent for mental development, the player is forced to read accurately and quickly, and eye and brain and heart work together.

The music department this year has tried to help sell education and to feature the Canyon Public School through programs, which are excellent training for the child. The seventh grade gave an operetta, "The Indian Princess." The sixth grade assisted by members of the third, fourth and fifth gave a musical playlet, "Uncle Sam's Visit." The department gave a program of samples of class work at the annual exhibit, and several numbers have been given on P. T. A. meetings. The department will be represented on graduation programs.

There are thirteen members in the band. Seven of them are very versatile, belonging to athletic teams and literary teams as well. The band played at basketball games and for several chapel programs this year.

An orchestra of fifteen members was organized combining the violin choir and some of the instruments of the band. They have furnished music for two plays and will appear once during graduation week.

The boys' trio has sung several times on school programs and on Sundays.

The fifth, sixth and seventh grades and girls' glee club have listened to several very interesting radio programs this year. They were broadcast over N. B. C. network by Walter Damrosh and his Symphony Orchestra during school hours to thousands of school children.

Since one teacher has to do all of the teaching of Public School Music, it is possible to see each class just one hour a week and some of the lower grades less than that. The orchestra meets two hours a week and the band two. The violin choir and the glee club each an hour a week.

NOTE

This edition and the one following is edited by Robbie Foster, who will be the editor of the Eagles Tale for the following year.

Preparation Is Being Made For Graduation

Preparations are now being made for the commencement exercises of the senior and seventh grade classes. Some changes have been made, however, concerning the baccalaureat sermon. The message will be delivered by Rev. J. R. Hicks in the Canyon High School Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock Sunday evening, May 21.

On the following Monday evening, May 22, at 8:00 o'clock the regular commencement exercises will be held. Rev. Roy Snodgrass of the First Christian Church of Amarillo will address this splendid group of young people.

The seventh grade graduation exercises will be held Saturday, May 20, at 8:00 o'clock.

Story of the Life of Poor Worn-Out School Librarian

Listen my children, and you shall hear, a story of a poor worn-out librarian.

The work is very enjoyable and gobs of fun, but I just have to grit my teeth when I hear some one say:

"I wish I worked in the library. Why, you get to talk all you want and oh, Boy, you don't have to sit still!"

That is just it. You don't have to sit still.

The average student goes up to the library and says:

"I want a book good to read."

"I want something on Abraham Lincoln or Calvin Coolidge."

By the time everyone is waited on there are the cards to be straightened. I usually read during my library period, and I find it very disquieting and nervous to get the hero of a story in a fix and then tramp, tramp. Here comes someone asking for something on children's clothes.

Still another thing! You can't have the least little unmended hole in your sock if you work in the library.

The person standing there waiting for service naturally watches you, and a hole just glares at you like a dollar would.

The library can be just a regular gossip center, and sometimes you get the hard looks. Sometimes it seems to me we have some very captivating girls in the library for some of the male population of C. H. S. certainly spend their time at the library desk.

Ex-Students

Records show that most ex-students of Canyon High School stay in Canyon for approximately five or six years at the least.

There are only a very few former graduates that do not live in Canyon now. Among those who graduated in 1930, who are now living in Canyon are: Clarence Dubbs, who now lives in New Kirk, N. M.; Grace Norman McElhaney, is now living in California; and Viola Shackelford also a graduate of 1930 is beauty shop operator in Clarendon.

There are only six graduates of 1931 who are living in other towns or cities of our state: Elizabeth Herndon is living in Bonham; Marie Tanner lives at Tyler; Clare Lockwood is working in Amarillo, Clark Ash is living at Umbarger; Clarence Wiseman is going to school at Denton, and Elizabeth Jameson is teaching at Big Square.

Eagle's Tale Staff Decide Senior Edition is Best

For the last four weeks class editions of the Eagles Tale have been appearing. The series was completed last week with the senior edition. Each of the classes in Canyon High School published one edition. This contest is sponsored each year by the regular staff of the Eagles Tale. No member of the regular staff may write for a class edition, but may act as advisor.

The seniors won with a two page edition of well written news. The editor of the senior edition was Matalee Parker; the sponsor was Mr. Terry.

Alton Brasuel was editor of the junior paper and Mr. Barker was sponsor. The juniors had a large and well written paper.

The sophomore edition was well written, and showed that much time and work had been spent in writing it. The editor was Marie Price, and the sponsor was Mr. Fox.

The freshmen also published a good paper, and promise to make good journalists. Mary Ella Davis was editor, and Miss Foster was sponsor.

Lady Fashion Dictates Red For Students

Lady Fashion of Canyon High School seems to have dictated red to be one of the most prominent colors worn. On the cold days, red skirts and white sweaters or blouses make the pupils lead a colorful life indeed. Red print dresses are now appearing. Red tams have been in vogue since the beginnig of school.

It is not only the girls, but the boys also are seen wearing bright hues of red shirts. It is certainly no uncommon thing to see several of the male population gaily bedecked in red tams.

The stores that have in various red articles certainly have sold plenty of red commodities.

EDITORIAL

There are some wise old things in the C. H. S. building, but about the wisest of all are the scarred desks. Long has the varnish been worn off, and these desks bear the initials, names, and lines left on them by ruthless boys and girls.

Many times have they been reinforced to the floor when some student went on a screw hunting campaign.

All of these wounds have not been inflicted by knives. Many of them are placed there by a fountain pen, a piece of wire, a pencil or a hair pin.

Yes, these desks are wise old things! They can tell you whether Sally Jones chewed gum in English class or not. They might even say whether Sammy had been caught throwing paper wads.

But these desks certainly know more than these nonsensical facts. Just think of it. They sit through four classes of algebra or English a day. These desks should certainly be able to pass on their particular subject.

W. T. Artists on Press Association Banquet Program

The Panhandle Press Association, convening in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, had on its program Friday night at the Annual Banquet of the Association several W. T. artists. The Banquet was held at the Amarillo Country Club after which the banquet hall was given over to dancing.

The W. T. artists included Miss Pauline Brigham, pianist, Herschel Coffee, violinist, both of whom are members of the Music Department, and Miss Mary Helen Hardin, student soprano.

Miss Hardin, accompanied by Miss Brigham, sang three numbers. In the last of these, "The Wren" she was accompanied by Mr. Coffee on the violin.

The newspaper men were unanimous in their praise of the program. Miss Hardin, "Songbird of the Panhandle Press Association," has appeared at their annual convention for the last five years.

Styles for Summer Break Into Print

NEW FROCKS COME IN TRIPLE SHEERS, LIGHTWEIGHT WOOLENS, CREPE, CHIFFON, ORGANDY, ORGANZA, EVEN SATIN

BY HARRIET

Blue and white printed organdy fashions the smart evening dress at left. Dropped shoulder ruffles feature this frock. A smart afternoon suit of gray print, trimmed with gray fox epaulets, is shown at right. A bunch of gardenias and white kid shoes complete the ensemble.

SUMMER with its magic moonlit nights and glamorous sunny afternoons is just around the corner. The smart thing to do is greet the social events of summer with printed clothes. Spring brings in prints but summer really caps the climax for them. They are always chic and cool-looking on the hottest days.

There can be no question about the charm that a printed crepe morning frock has. Printed suits in gay checks or plaids are ideal for the girl who commutes to business. They show summer dirt and dust less than plain colors.

Almost all materials come printed this year. Triple sheers, lightweight woolens, crepe, chiffon, organdy and organza, and even satin are made up in lovely intricate designs.

Small prints are more in vogue than large ones. And tiny, dainty patterns are more flattering to most women. Leave the enormous, floral designs to the very young girl. Flowered prints are much in evidence although many materials, particularly the ones for evening frocks, are block, square, oval, circular or diamond-shaped patterns.

You can select an entire wardrobe for summer of prints alone—travel suit, street dress, afternoon ensemble and evening gown—and with all the perfectly devastating prints being shown in stores you'll probably want to select just such a wardrobe.

Printed blouses are smart with plain colored suits. Linen in checked patterns lends an air of glamour to any suit.

Accessories that go with printed clothes are, for the most part, plain. And the plainer the better. Of course the new fad for gloves which match the material of an evening dress or formal afternoon ensemble is an exception to the plain-accessory rule with prints. It is very chic to have gauntlet-type gloves of lace, organdy, linen or any material your frock happens to be.

• • •

THIS lovely gray printed afternoon ensemble will take the prize at almost any social. It is the kind of dress that you can wear for an afternoon bridge, a tea or even an informal dance at the country club.

The finger-length jacket is of the same material and design as the short-sleeved dress itself. Gray for fur epaulets trim the shoulders of the jacket.

White kid shoes and a bunch of gardenias, held in hands and not pinned to the costume, complete the accessory ensemble.

Blue and white printed organdy makes this simple evening gown another prize winner.

It is cut on the bias and falls in most graceful manner from the waist. The belt which fastens with a handsome jeweled buckle is of blue grosgrain ribbon. There is a single ruffle of self material all the way around the neck and a double ruffle over the shoulders around the arm holes.

It is smarter to have your shoulders covered this year. Little cap sleeves or double rows of ruffles fashion the sleeve treatment of this summer's evening frocks.

Drive At Wayside Across Canyon Is "Hamblen Drive"

A scenic drive for the Panhandle is now in evidence, which will draw hundreds of cars every Sunday.

Without any preliminary announcements, the drive is now in use and is drawing more and more cars, as was witnessed last Sunday when more than 200 cars are said to have made the drive.

Markers are being prepared with the hope that they will be in place by next Sunday to assist those who wish to make the drive. Road maps are being prepared to assist those who will make the trip.

As a start on the drive, cars will be directed to the Museum building in Canyon, where many people will wish to spend an hour or two. They will be directed east to the Palo Duro Park, where they may look down the Goodnight Trail, and look over the site of the proposed Palo Duro State Park.

Returning to the west, the sign posts will direct traffic south past the Nance ranch to the Wayside road where the Hamblen Drive will be taken up at Wayside to cross the Palo Duro. The Hamblen Drive has been named in honor of Bill Hamblen who has been working for 25 years on a dream to see built a highway across the canyon. This drive was completed a few weeks ago, and is attracting much attention. Last Sunday scores of picnic parties sought the coolness and freshness of the spring weather at this part of the Palo Duro.

The crossing at this place is about seven miles in length, and is the most spectacular drive in the Panhandle. The grades are steep, but may easily be taken in low or second gear. Drivers are warned to use their gears in going down into the canyon, rather than relying upon their brakes. The river is wide at this point, and cannot be crossed following a rain owing to the sand. Very little water is found a day or two following a rain.

This crossing has been built very largely by volunteer labor during the past winter. The road has not been hard surfaced but it is hoped that eventually the state will take over this section and make a state highway as it connects Claude and Happy.

It is the purpose of the sponsors of the Goodnight Trail to extend the highway from the place Goodnights entered the Palo Duro 12 miles east of the city, down the canyon to the Hamblen Drive, turning north on the Drive and out of the Palo Duro. A few miles north of the canyon the highway turns to Goodnight where the old Goodnight home may be viewed together with the buffalo herd, and the graves of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Goodnight.

The state highway will be taken back to Claude, Amarillo and Canyon to the point of starting at the Museum building.

In a drive of 100 miles, many interesting features will be seen.

When the Goodnight Trail is completed in the Palo Duro, many miles of beauty will be added to the drive, which will for the present be made over the plains country.

Hundreds of Canyon people are expected to join the procession which will make this drive during the coming spring and summer months.

Postmasters Will Be Named According to Ability

Congressman Marvin Jones has forwarded a statement to the News regarding the qualifications of applicants for postoffices. In view of the fact that the Canyon postoffice will change next March, the statement will be of interest to several Canyon men who will be applicants for the office.

The statement by Postmaster General Farley follows:

"There are 15,000 post offices of the first, second and third classes in which the postmaster is appointed by the President, subject to confirmation by the Senate. There will be no change in the practice of making such appointments from lists of three eligibles established by the Civil Service Commission. In accordance with the intention of the law and with the unbroken custom, the administration's friends will be appointed to these places; but they must be efficient and capable men and women, of high standing in their respective communities, and we know of no reason for departure from the principle established in 1917 by President Wilson of determining the fitness of applicants by civil service examination."

The statement then continues to the effect that the list of three eligibles will be submitted to members of Congress for suggestion as to selection therefrom after such examination.

Progress Made

made by the state officials and local committees are now securing right-of-way.

In the picture above is shown the point where the scenic highway will enter the canyon 11 miles east of Canyon at the site where Col. Charles Goodnight drove his first herd of cattle into the Palo Duro 56 years ago. The highway will follow this trail for 25 miles to the site of his first homestead, and will extend five miles farther to where it connects with a road crossing the Palo Duro due south of Claude, and on to the Goodnight graves at Goodnight, thus affording an outlet both north and south. The ultimate plan is to extend other outlets to Clarendon and Memphis on the east, Tulia to the south and Amarillo to the northwest, but first efforts are being centered on the 30-mile improvement down the Goodnight Trail. A splendid road now runs to the point of entrance from Canyon, a distance of 11 miles. This will be widened into 100-foot highway and will be designated as a state highway.

Serving on the executive committee with Mr. Johnson and Mr. Warwick are the following county directors: R. E. Baird, Randall; L. P. White, Armstrong; Odos Caraway, Donley; Dr. W. C. Dickey, Hall; Dr. J. W. Stevens, Swisher, and J. E. Bain of Briscoe.

Local committees in each county are now obtaining right-of-way on roads approaching the canyon and also assisting on the main driveway through the gorge, which runs through the Panhandle for a distance of nearly 100 miles.

Full co-operation also is being given the committee by the state park board, the state highway department, the health and game departments and by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce through President Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo. Prospects are that dirt will be broken on the construction of the highway within 30 days, leading to the location of a number of government conservation camps in the canyon where hundreds if not thousands of Panhandle men will be put to work on one of the outstanding relief programs in Texas.

Report Made on Charity Cases During Winter

One hundred forty-five needy families in Randall County have been aided through the winter months by the local chapter of the American Red Cross and the Community Chest, according to reports made at the meeting of the City Federation Wednesday afternoon. Of this number the Red Cross has cared for 107 families and the Community Chest for 38.

In garments dispensed, the former organization, reported Mrs. T. C. Thompson and Mrs. H. O. Price of the committee in charge, has provided 870 items cut from cotton material provided by the national government and 762 new ready made garments, while Mrs. C. N. Dowlen, chairman of the Community Chest committee announced that 1,462 used garments had been distributed through that organization. Mrs. Dowlen also reported that of the $17.25 received in cash donations, $8.50 had been spent for shoes.

In a survey of the 107 families served by the Red Cross it was found that the smallest family contained four members, while the largest contained fourteen members.

The Federation will not meet again until the second Wednesday in September.
